
LAC STE. ANNE COUNTY ISSUES UPDATE REGARDING ADMINISTRATION BUILDING STRUCTURE ISSUES

Sangudo, Alberta, Monday, February 22, 2021 – Lac Ste. Anne County continues with its measures to address the challenges associated with the Administration Building. In particular, structural investigations and solution option development are ongoing but not yet complete.

The goal of the County in addressing solutions is to ensure that the interests of the County residents and ratepayers are addressed and they have a quality Building to support the important services the County delivers.

To protect the County's interests, the County has initiated a lawsuit against the parties involved in the project execution, design, and construction of the Administration Building. The public is reminded that, based on advice from the County's Legal Counsel handling the lawsuit, limited information can be shared until the lawsuit is concluded.

Although the Covid-19 pandemic has impacted the County, progress continues with both the solutions and lawsuit.

Lac Ste. Anne County Council and Administration sincerely thank ratepayers for their continued understanding and cooperation as they work to bring this matter to conclusion. The County will provide periodic updates on the matter on its website and social media channels.
