
LAC STE. ANNE COUNTY ISSUES UPDATE REGARDING ADMINISTRATION BUILDING STRUCTURE ISSUES

Sangudo, Alberta, Wednesday, March 2, 2022 – Lac Ste. Anne County continues with its measures to ensure that they have a quality Administration Building to support the important services the County delivers and that the interests of residents and ratepayers are addressed.

Structural investigations and development of solution options continue. Pending consideration and potential implementation of long-term solutions that will be identified, we remain focussed on ensuring that in the interim the building remains safe.

The County's lawsuit against the parties involved in the project execution, design, and construction of the Administration Building is ongoing. Litigation steps will continue to be taken throughout 2022. As previously reported, based on the advice of the County's legal counsel handling the lawsuit limited information can be shared until the lawsuit is concluded.

Lac Ste. Anne County Council and Administration continue to sincerely thank ratepayers for their understanding as we work to bring this matter to conclusion. The County will provide periodic updates on the matter on its website and social media channels.
